

BEAR WHITETAIL MASTER

When the modules were changed to allow 65 percent let-off, the speed at 75 pounds jumped to 231 fps, and the already quiet bow produced even less noise upon release.

The Whitetail Master has conventional recurved compression-molded carbon-fiberglass limbs

The Whitetail Master, set at 65 pounds peak, shot 195 fps with 30-inch, 590-grain hunting arrows

We found the Bear's staged, offset grip (cast as part of the riser grip) to be more comfortable than the other bows
