Right: The 6.6-inch-long 16-slot Ultimax scope mount ($120), blends flawlessly with the AK47. The vertical lines painted on the mounting bolts provide instant feedback should they come loose.

Left: The Colorado Shooting Sports Lightning lever greatly improved access to the safety.

Left: The tritium dot front sight from XS is a big improvement over standard equipment. This is a $150 upgrade, including an adjustable rear sight.
